

Aug. 25, 2009

Chesterfield County Public Schools

(804) 748-1405 • chesterfield.k12.va.us

Schools Today

Truly welcome

Spring Run Elementary School was named the most welcoming school in the county by the Chesterfield County Council of PTAs/PTSAs during a spring banquet celebrating successes. Holding a banner proclaiming the good news are (left to right) School Board member Omarh Rajah, Spring Run Principal Sandra Blankenship, Spring Run PTA President Dawn Slagle and Superintendent Marcus Newsome.

Winning ways

Chesterfield Technical Center students (left to right) won national SkillsUSA awards. In Cisco internetworking, Eli won fourth in the postsecondary section and Carter took eighth in the secondary section. Nichole finished 12th in photography. Knakeesha was 17th in commercial baking.

Get connected

Check out the school system's updated web site (chesterfield.k12.va.us), become a fan on Facebook (www.facebook.com/chesterfieldschools) and on Twitter.com follow the school system (ccpsinfo) and superintendent (ccpssuper).

After just three weeks, Chesterfield County Public Schools had more fans on Facebook than any of the other 100 largest school systems in the country. Get connected!

Meadowbrook JROTC cadets win awards

Twenty Army JROTC cadets from Meadowbrook High School joined 300 cadets from across Virginia at Fort Eustis for a weeklong camp of leadership training, rappelling, land navigation, marksmanship and other skill development.

At the end of the camp, Meadowbrook students won about a third of the 36 awards given:

- Stephanie Pryor — No. 3 cadet overall
- Cydney Jones — fourth place in drill competition
- Antonio Trice — honorary sergeant major's coin
- Ashlyn Gray — among top 12 cadets, first place in 100-meter race (female) and first place in pushups (female)
- Genesis Avila — among top 12 cadets
- Ariana Brown — among top 12 cadets
- Joshua Scott — distinguished cadet
- Desmond Davis — distinguished cadet
- Christopher Navarro — distinguished cadet
- Nelson Roque — distinguished cadet
- Marquita Walker — distinguished cadet
- Jordon Lee — distinguished cadet

Meadowbrook High School's senior Army instructor is Maj. Matthew Spaulding, assisted by Army instructors 1st Sgt. Thomas Ghent and Sgt. 1st Class Patricia Harris.